No. It is free for people who have a learning disability and/or neurodivergent people who do not have any other support from professionals. There is no financial assessment for Help When You Need It services in Bristol.

How long will my support last?

That depends on what you are getting support with. At-home support could be anywhere between a One off session up to 6 months.

We will start by looking at your goals and what you want help with. You will then make an action plan with us. If you have only one action, then we might only support you for a few weeks. If you have a lot of actions, we can work on those with you for a few months.

However you will have ongoing access to our hubs and drop-ins for an unlimited time-frame.

Don't worry though, if you need more support than we can offer, we will help you to apply for the right support for you.

I've got support from someone else already, but would like some extra help, can you support me?

Unfortunately not. The people we support only need help every now and then.

If you feel you need more support, you should contact your provider or Bristol City Council.

Our service is for adults who do not have and would not be given access to a care package and care plan from Bristol City Council. This is called Care Act Eligible.

What happens after I have been referred to your services?

We do have a waiting list. We will get in contact and arrange an assessment, but it might be several months before you hear from us. You will be met by two people from the KeyRing team. They will ask questions like 'what you are good at?', 'What would like to do?' and 'What do you need help with?'. Together you will then make an action plan.

What happens when I have completed all my actions and my support ends?

Congratulations. When your 1 to 1 support ends, we will arrange a check-in telephone call with you to see how you are doing.

You can still be a part of KeyRing and come to our weekly hubs and groups. If you need more help later on, you can get back in touch. We will talk to you about what you want to achieve and what you need help with. Then you will do another plan with us.

Can I get support at the hubs and groups?

Yes you can. Our hubs and groups are run by KeyRing volunteers and workers.

They can help you look at letters, contact people and access other services. Many of our Members have shared experiences, know their local community well and can provide great support. This is sometimes called peer support or mutual support. We call it friendship or being a good neighbour.

When and where are the hubs and group meetups?

We run different hubs across Bristol for our Members. We also have two groups that are open to anyone with a learning disability or autism.

- Art for All @ St Luke's Church, Queen Anne Rd Hall BS5 9FB – 1st &

3rd Tuesday of the month; 1- 3 pm

- Easton Community Hub @ Easton Community Centre, Kilburn St,

Easton BS5 6AW - last Tuesday of the month 13.00 till 15.00

If I've already had support can I get support again?

Yes. We will talk to you about what you want to achieve and what you need help with. Then you will do another plan with us.

Is there a waiting list for your service?

Yes there is. The waiting list time can change but we will tell you how long you will need to wait. If we think you can get the help you need from another organisation we may help you to connect with them.

While you wait for 1 to 1 support, we will invite you to our groups. We may even be able to offer some support while you are there.
